

C&A expands e-Commerce: New online shop for eleven additional countries

- English-language European shop with consistent prices, single currency and standardised offer
- Range of e-commerce activities more than doubled from nine to 20 countries
- Platform opens new markets

Dusseldorf, Germany - C&A strengthens its focus on the e-commerce business by launching its new EU shop in early March. "This additional online store is the next big step in expanding our online activities," says Dr. Andreas Hammer, Director E-Commerce Europe. With the new platform, C&A can more than double the reach of its e-commerce activities from nine to twenty countries.

The additional eleven countries are Croatia, Portugal, Romania, Slovakia, Slovenia, the Czech Republic and Hungary, where C&A already has branches. The online shop also serves Denmark, Finland, Greece and Sweden, where the company is not represented. "We know that many people from these countries regret that they cannot order our fashion online. The launch of the EU Shop is good news for them ", explains Dr. Hammer.

An offer for everyone

The new EU Shop is a standardised English platform for customers from the eleven countries. All prices are quoted in euros, regardless of the local currency. "The platform rightly deserves the name 'EU Shop': No matter from which country the customer comes from, the offer and prices are completely identical."

C&A currently operates online shops in the following nine markets in the respective national language: Belgium, Germany, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Austria,

Poland, Switzerland and Spain. Nothing changes for customers of these online offers. You can continue to use the online offer as usual in your own language.
